Clap, clap Sally
Clap, clap Sally
Clap, clap Sally

She took a ride on another train
She couldn't cry 'cause her face was bleeding
She booked a ticket in another name
She never thought it would be so easy

She's never ever been together
But she's never meant to fall apart
They hurt her either way
She's going to putting back together all the pieces of a broken heart

He hurts you anyway
When you don't know he shouldn't be
Where the life should have been

Sally... oh... don't let the rain get you down
Look out the window
Somethings coming in
That's gonna chase away the sorrow
Don't let the rain
Get you down, look out the window
Gotta shine again
Like the world around you

Sally who turned on you
And made you black eyed, Sally blue?
Sally who turned on you
And made you black eyed, Sally

Sally, Sally

She took a ride on another train
She couldn't cry 'cause her face was bleeding
She booked a ticket in another name
She never thought it would be so easy

She's never ever been together
But she's never meant to fall apart

They hurts her either way
She's going to putting back together all the pieces of a
broken heart

He hurts you anyway
The pleasures couldn't have been
And the blue is that she's easy and I love you so

SallyÂ... ohÂ... don't let the rain get you down
Look out the window
Someone's coming in
That's gonna chase away the sorrow

SallyÂ... ohÂ... don't let the rain get you down
Look out the window
Gotta shine again

Sally

I could love you tomorrow
And see that you don't know my love at all

Clap, clap Sally
Clap, clap Sally
Clap, clap Sally

Don't let the rain get you down
Look out the window
Somethings coming in
Don't let the rain
Gotta shine again

Sally who turned on you
And made you black eyed, Sally blue?
Sally who turned on you

UhhhÂ...
Clap, clap Sally
Clap, clap Sally
Clap, clap Sally
