"Life Goes On"

Every time I look up into the tear-filled sky,
A fickle wave of blue binds my chest.If it's destiny, I will leave behind the days
That I've fought till the end of sorrow.Life Goes On,
passionately.
As long as I am alive,
Even if I were to lose sight of my real self,
Life Goes On, I want to protect it.
My heart was shattered,
And in these eyes that have seen true sorrow,
Love is overflowingThe flowers that bloom in winter
paints a misty landscape.
"Strength is tenderness" I sang
Nan no tame dare no tame ni kimi wa
Tatakaitsudzokeru no darou ima For what and for who
Do you continue to fight for now?
Life Goes On, be reborn.
If we unknowing meet again,
I don't want to lose you a second time, but Life Goes On. In this era,
As long as I am given life,
I catch it with these arms and this chest.
Believe in love.I can feel your heart in motion, deep down in your mind and passion.
Life goes on and on, we love each other in the sadness
of timeLife Goes On, passionately.
As long as I am alive,
I want to share this light with you again someday.
Life Goes On, I want to protect it.
Send your prayers towards the sky.
In these eyes that have seen true sorrow,
Love is overflowing.
