I look into your eyes, I see a different kind of love
One that I can't get enough of I see a future you don't quite have a hold on
But who am I to talk on that
When our eyes met, I could see
You were out of my league
But God, God's playing on a different team

I've never had my very own angel
Perfect from the inside out
Okay she has her flaws but who am I to talk
The question is she perfect for me

When you look into my eyes do you see Everything that we could be
If this is a dream, it's the best dream
I've never wanted to wake up from
And since we met, I can't stop smiling
And everything you do I can see
Is sent from heaven

What's the chance of meeting you here
I came to dance and there's a thousand other fishes in this see
But you caught me, hook line and sinker you caught me
But am I good enough to keep
