On the third day He had risen
Just like He said He'd do
Hell would not become His prison
He broke the chains for me and you

Chorus:

In a crown of thorns
They hung my Lord
They pierced his body
With a soldier's sword
But He forgave them and that spirit
Brings me to my knees
For the One
That they hung
Between two thieves

Then He went to His disciples
They put their hands in the nail scarred hand
And to those who had been doubting
They felt the power of God's plan
