I took a look inside the heart of the matter
I had way too much on my plate
I caught the first flight to new york city
I had to change the locks on my gate

Cho:

I know I should've saw it coming
I know but now it's too late
I know I should've hit the ground running away
I'd be crazier to stay, I know

She hopped a cab outside El Segundo
She caught the first flight out on the X
Headlong into the horizon
Headlong into what's next

(Cho 2x)
