Couldn't you tell by the way she was runnin'
Couldn't you tell by the way your heart felt
Don't try to tell me that you didn't see it coming
Is that just what you were telling yourself

Chorus:

She don't want nobody
Yeah nobody gets through
Everybody knows that nobody will do
Everybody knows but you

Back on the street, avoiding every stranger
Now you're back where you started from
Don't wanna put yourself back in any danger
Swallow your anger while your heart's still young

Chorus

Silent type, little cafe
He slowly rolls his dice
Unaware of the stare that's been melting
Below his feet as she breaks that ice

Chorus x2
