Well, I wish I had a flat rock
The best that I could find
I'd skip it off the surface
Of the waters in the mind

And our thoughts are like the ripples
Dreams are like the waves
Memories are the vessels
That we dock into the bay

And my harbor has been empty
My ships are out at sea
And I'm walking on the moon tonight
Won't you come with me?

I don't need another movie
Or another TV screen
I just need a pair of walking shoes
And a worn out pair of jeans

And the reason that I'm leaving
That's the reason I can't stay
I'm walking on the moon tonight
A million miles away

So catch yourself a shooting star
Join me in the sky
Pack your bags and hit the road
And we'll kiss this place goodbye
Cause I'm a-sitting on a mountain
By a window with a view
Won't you come and sit beside me
On the top side of the moon

Well, I wish I had a flat rock
The best that I could find
I'd skip it off the surface
Of the waters in the mind

And the reason that I'm leaving
That's the reason I can't stay

I'm walking on the moon tonight
A million miles away
I'm walking on the moon tonight
A million miles away
