Stop, static, it's a heart attack moment
Just let it just run its course
Can't you see this is just withdrawal
From the habit you have formed?

Sweat it out, you'll be fine I'm sure
Take another sip
You know it always calms your nerves
Steal a glance, steal a glance
And I'll flash a smile

It's just the way I
I've always been and i always will be
Take my
Silence as this was wrong in the first place

Conscience clear, it's a bad idea
But your lips don't make a sound
You escape in a warm embrace
And forget about this town

Racing hearts near the finish line
Our getting caught is only just a matter of time

It's just the way I
I've always been and i always will be
Take my
Silence as this was wrong in the first place

Don't say you lost me forever
Don't say you'll forget whatever
You said to make me second guess myself

Don't say you lost me forever
Don't say you'll forget whatever

Your lips, they lie
His fists, my eyes
Just as our hips collide
In time for the reprise
All along, we're all alone

It's just the way I
I've always been and i always will be
Take my
Silence as this was wrong in the first place
Wrong in the first place
