(Oh)

I wonder what she's thinking
When her eyes are closed
Hoping it's 'bout me
But I will never know
(The song)

There's a CD and a t-shirt
On your table by your bed
Plus a couple dollars
When you wake up, call a cab

I really wanna wake her
So that I could say goodbye
But what would be the point 'cause

You don't have to leave
Rest your head, baby girl
You don't have to leave
Rest your head baby girl

When you open up your eyes
I'll be in the sky
Somewhere far away
Tryin' to find my way

When you open up your eyes
I'll be in the sky
Somewhere far away
Tryin' to find my way
You don't have to leave

I wish that we could go back
To the night before
'Cause maybe she's the
(One)
But I will, will never know
(The song)

There's a CD and a t-shirt
On your table by your bed
Plus a couple dollars

When you wake up, call a cab

I really wanna wake her
So that I could say goodbye
What would be the point 'cause

You don't have to leave
Rest your head baby girl
You don't have to leave
Rest your head baby girl

When you open up your eyes
I'll be in the sky
Somewhere far away
Tryin' to find my way

When you open up your eyes
I'll be in the sky
Somewhere far away
But you don't have to leave

Oh, oh, oh
Open up your eyes
You don't have to leave
(Rest your head baby girl now)
You don't have to leave

Rest your head baby girl
I'll be in the sky
Somewhere far away

When you open up your eyes
I'll be in the sky
Somewhere far away
You don't have to leave

Yeah, yeah, alright
