There's a light in every window
And it's shining on your door
It's put there to remind you
Of what you must answer for
Have you never had this feeling
There's nothin' you must hide
No day to remember
No day to recall

Every day is just another day
Every way is just another way
So try to remember
Please try to recall
Why don't you believe me, oh
Why don't you believe me, oh

And in a moment's hesitation
Your defences are down
And your secret is out, it is out

Nightmares keep coming
Your dreams get confused
As you try to remember
The way that you were used
But you'll have forgotten
You can't recall
The way that it happened
And the things that you saw

Every face is just another face
Every place is just another place
That haunts you forever,
The day you can't hide
Why don't you believe me, oh
Why don't you believe me, oh

And in a moment's hesitation
Your defences are down
And your secret is out, is out

Someone points a finger
Someone knows the truth

'bout the day you've been hiding
The day you were used
But the nightmares keep coming
Your dreams get confused
As you try to remember
As you try to recall
But you know in your heart
Someone will find

That day you remember
That day you can't hide

That day you remember
