There never was a moment I wasn't sure I would be someone who roamed the world
And when the time was ready and so was i Get out of here onto the streets
Who'll make everything better, who'll make everything better.

The life that I was living, the great outdoors Stars up above me everynight, as I lay down my head Who'll make everything better, who'll make everything
better.

Get out of bed I hear them singing all along the way
You're where you want to be out on the open road again
Ain't that peculiar, you're on you're own again You're on your own, on your own, I guess you always were.

One day you come to realise you're getting old
No one to share the lonely days, to be together Who'll make everything better, who'll make everything
better.

Get out of bed I hear them singing all along the way Too late to change it all, the gypsy in your blood has gone
Ain't that peculiar, you're on your own again
You're on your own, on your own, until the very end.
