I woke up this morning
With some things on my mind
As i try to find the truth in what i thought was right
Slowly i'm sinking beneath my reasons
I shattered Your dreams into what may seem to be
A million pieces
I struggle to find what's standing here
Put me back together
And i know that You will be right by my side
I'm tired of running away from You
Forgive me i know not what i do
Do you love Me
(Jesus, Your name is above all names)
Do you love me
(You're everything to me)
What would you do for Me
Your only hope lies at the center of a cross
