I keep evading my hope, designing every last look
I keep walking like a ragdoll, still so I can feel
I swallows all my thought, I keep them in by a head
While all of us around will feel, I got everything
I ever fortun'd in life
And still the illusions come my way...
Did I want another life, did I deserve another life
Did I want another life, did I pass time inside it all
Look at my face....
Just defiant by a thought, the occasional doubt
People walking on planks and still trying to make a place
Of higher fortune in life
And still they do not come my way
Did I want another life, did I deserve another life
Did I want another life, did I pass time inside it all
Look at my face....
Did I want another life, did I deserve another life
Did I want another life, did I pass time inside it all
Look at my face....
Did I want another life?
