Hey girl who's it gonna be
Is it him or maybe is it me
I can see the lying
Written across your face
I can smell betrayal
In your loving ways
I don't know where you were last night
I don't know if you did wrong or right
But I know what I see in your eyes
And I don't really like it at all
So why
Do you say it ain't over
When you're already gone
Yeah why
Do you keep on believin'
That you've done nothing wrong
Hey girl what am I to you
Your soul mate
Or a broken toy
You know that i
See right through your lies
You know I won't let you deny it
I don't think I got nothing to lose
When it's already lost
Still you tell me it ain't that way
But you're already out the door
So why
Do you say it ain't over
When you're already gone
Yeah why do you keep on believin'
That you've done nothing wrong
So why do you say it ain't over when you're already gone
Why do you try to deny it when the damage is done
