Another city and I'm walking around
Pounding pavement putting miles down
I get so lonesome I can't sleep
I get that sidewalk moving under my feet
Another city and they all seem the same
I see the sights and I note the names
But then I forget because nothing's changed
From place to place I carry my pain
Another city
Another city and I'm so far away
I'll be gone for a few more days
I hit the streets and they hit me
But I walk the line because your all I see my girl
Another city
