Did they get you to hate
Did they destroy your faith
Did they break your heart
Tear your world apart
Are you running scared and alone
Are you without any place to call home
Are you coming apart at the seams
Are you disconnected
Did they break you down to nothing
Are the nails already in your coffin
The War
Did they shoot your heroes down
Turn your hope into doubt
Did they trample all of your dreams
Take away your means
Are you living in your own hell
Are you without a soul to tell
Are you screaming at a wall
Are you disconnected
Did they break you down to nothing
Are the nails already in your coffin
The War
Did they get you to hate
Did they destroy your faith
Did they break your heart
Tear your world apart
You've got to stand up and stand strong
You've got to keep on moving along
You've got to strive for something more
This life is a mission
Did they break you down to nothing
Are the nails already in your coffin
The War
