And all my life, I've been waiting
For the one like you
Stuck in these awkward situations,
Searching for something true
When my life was upside-down, you turned it all around
Nighttime drivin' around the town
I look into your eyes,
And you make me realize

When all stars fall you'll be one,
To kiss my lips and see the sun
As it sets over everything in this world,

'Cuz when all stars fall you'll see the way
I look at you as you're watching me
And I swear, that I will..
Love you forever.

She thought she was so clever,
Think I finally did better
Believe me I burned all the letters
To let go of what I once treasured.
She pushed me to the ground,

I fell into the sound,
Of a fast paced heartbeat
I turned around,
And looked into your eyes,
And right then I realized...

That when all stars fall, you'll be one,
To kiss my lips and see the sun
As it sets over everything in this world.

And when all stars fall, you'll see the way
I look at you as you're watching me
And I swear, that I will..
Love you forever.

'Cuz when all stars fall you'll scream my name,
The sky will fall and I'll hold your hand,
And I won't trade you for anything in this world

And when all stars fall I hope you know,
I'll make my way to your window
And I swear that I will...
