"We Need More Close-Ups"

More than once I felt displaced when I woke up in some haze and all I could remember was the morning of yesterday

After such an evening any breakfast makes no sense and all I want to do is lay down and sleep again

Hey, we need more close-ups
Hey, we need more close-ups

Did you ever get to know how to go and disappear?
my comeback would be wonderful and all the world would cheer

How does it feel to feel?
nothing seems to be quite real My day-to-day routine has overrun me once again

Hey, we need more close-ups
Hey, we need more close-ups
