

Miley Cyrus "Finally Home"

I'm looking up at the clouds watching the world spin around Something looks familiar in the color of the sky reminds me of the mess that i made last night
It's as blue as the ocean, As wild as the tide.

I'm home
In your arms is where
I belong
Please don't let me go.
Thank God, that I'm finally home.

Here i go again where i haven't been now for a while It feels so damn good to let out a smile cant remember the last time i felt love with your skin touching mine somehow i feel so strong
When i look in your eyes and look into your soul
If your not holding, i cant breathe, i'd rather die

I'm Home
In your arms is where
I belong
Please don't let me go
Thank God, that I'm finally home.
