I am looking up at the clouds, watching the world spin around Something looks familiar in the color of sky Reminds me of the mess that i made last night
Its blue in the ocean,as wild,as the tide

i'm home
In your arms is where i belong please don't let me go thank god im finally home

Here I go again where I haven't been now for a while Its feels so damn good to let out the time smile Can't remember the last time I felt loved when your skin touched mine Some how I feel so strong,

When I into your eyes,and look into your soul
If your not holding me,i can't breathe.I'd rather die
I'm home
I'm in your arms where i belong
Please don't let me go.
