Here Comes Roy Rogers' ghost in cowboys town called Bozana in Montana
Because it is cowboys country where these cowboys like to dance with Cowgirls on the streets these cowboys has indian wars times in Bonzana
They keep fighting thse indians until the bonzana wars are over with the Help of Roy Rogers' ghost when he comes to Bonzana town from his grave over The mountains & hills in the forest to fight these indians off for their Cowboys lands & freedom because of cowboys ghost powers coming to to help Them fight off these indians of Bonzana like a bull on the streets tonight.

The Cowboys & the Cowgirls will always remember this day in the town of Bonzana in Montana were these cowboys wins in the forest at dawn in the mountains over the indians of early cowboys country town; each cowboys & cowgirls will be standing one by one with each other together on the streets because it is so hard to say goodbye on theis special day in Bonzana.

Over the years all the country cowboys shall be thankful for their friend, Roy Rogers' ghost when they needs his help from his grave of the night in Bonzana. With another chapter all the cowboys' ghosts in Montana comes & dance with cowgir's girls ghost on Bonzana streets tonight; they will have memories with vict-ory, vict-ory, vict-ory, vict-ory in their hearts so their happiness will never fade away from these ghosts in Montana's streets.

Everyday all the times that these cowgirls had with these cowboys between fighting with their enemies, the indians and the cowboys outlaws around Bonzana in Montana, their love shall always touch their ghost hearts forever, because it is so hard to say goodbye when they has to go back into their graves after the sun goes down tonight.

Then they shall sing-yesterday gone and tomorrow has come so these ghosts from their graves of Bonzana, will keep moving on with their hearts will never fade away until they meet again someday. The cowboys & Cowgirls will always remember Roy Rogers' ghost from Bonzana of Montana forever; wherever he goes.

The ghosts of Bonzana shall keep remember of the past with cowgirls tears down the streets while they are out tonight from their graves in cowboys country of Montana. They will always know a better place to be in the town of Bonzana with all the greatest cowboys & cowgirls in town of happy tears in the spotlight after the sunset in Bonzana; then the Indians from the grave shall come out before the ghosts of Bonzana before midnight around the town hidden in the caves of Indian tombs with curse like the Egyptians with revenge underground towards Bonzana before Roy Rogers' ghost comes flying down upon these Indians' ghosts before midnight on the streets in Montana.
