

Millennium

"It Won't Always Be The Same"

Visit "It Won't Always Be The Same" on MotoLyrics.com

I know where the next rain's gonna fall
I know where the next sun's gonna shine
And it's all clear to me
I can tell from where I see
And I know that it won't always be the same
You know every step you walk away
You think all your world will never end
But you're hardly ever right
When you're standing in the light
And again you find you can't recite your name
There's a change coming soon, can you see it?
There's a change coming soon, can you see it?
I can hear the sounds of coming winds
You can only hear your anger sound
But the louder voices rise
Only covers up your eyes
And you're trapped inside the lies that are your game
There's a change coming soon, can you see it?
There's a change coming soon, can you see it?
There's a change coming soon, can you see it?

Visit Millennium page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.