"Roses Are Red"

Roses are red and violets are blue.
I was all alone until I met you
For so long I was lost but now I've been found It brightens up my day when you're around me
Well I know you'r far away but I think of you eac day
And its safe to say that youre always on my mind the day we met I must admit since then i think about you all the time You're the sunshine that would brighten up my day and now its been raining since you went away
If I could have all my wishes come true
Then I wouldn't have to cause I'd be with you
