"Dropping Like Flies"

All my friends are dropping like flies
Becoming what they always despised
Hanging up their boots
Changing their attitudes

All my friends are dropping like flies
The gleam is gone from their eyes
But I just can't let go
To the life that we led before

Turned your back on all our hopes and dreams
Everything came busting at the seams
Never gonna let it happen to me
Never gonna let it happen to me

All my friends are dropping like flies
They just didn't realize
This so-called growing up
Just means giving up

Turned your back on all our hopes and dreams
Everything came busting at the seams
Never gonna let it happen to me
Never gonna let it happen to me
