I can see a million colors fall from heaven
Drip into the sunset
I believe there's a million other colors
That I have never seen
That are waiting for me there
Doesn't a sunset like that just make you want to fall in love
On a moonlit night when everything was right,
And then we look above

Hey!

I can see a million colors fall from heaven
Drip into the sunset
I believe there's a million other colors
That I have never seen
That are waiting for me there
Doesn't a sunset like that just make you want to fall in love
On a moonlit night when everything was right
And then we look above

Doesn't a sunset like that just make you want to fall in love
On a moonlit night when everything was right
And then we look above

Doesn't a sunset like that just bring you down to your knees
On a moonlit night when everything was right
And then we look above
