All this time away from you with you would be better All those days of summer fun I missed you more than ever Absence makes the heart grow withered, but fonder still
You know I never will stay silent

It was a big mistake to let me have my way in the first place
it was a big mistake to let me memorize your face

I'm jealous of you, moon tonight you'll get to see her alone beneath the stars and everything I fear All my strength was tranquilized and everyday I get weaker but stronger when I think of how we never sat silent

place
it was a big mistake to let me memorize your face
