So you've come back, to me my friend
It's been so long since we could share
The light dividing shadow fall

So many still are torn apart
Forever near, yet so far
Anything could change my life
But nothing could stop all the pain that's inside of me

Anyway just who would care?
If I was to end it here
Meet me where the shadows fall

Take me to some other place in my life
Somewhere when I had no reason to die
Take me to some other place that you know
Where we can live forever

Anyway just who would care?
If I was to end it here
Meet me where the shadows fall

Take me to some other place in my life
Somewhere when I had no reason to die
Take me to some other place that you know
Where we can live forever
