I've been thinking lately how to get you off my mind
The way you shake your hips little girl
I swear you're too damn fine
And every time you come around
You got something up your sleeve
I can't seem to figure out just exactly what you need

Innocent you say to me, but you play that card so well
When the lights went out last night my God I could never tell
You came up to my hotel room and you knocked upon my door
Say to me what it is you need and I near did hit the floor

Light me up like a fire
Burning out of control
I got a felling that I'm gonna want some more

Drop me straight down to my knees
My time is over but I do not want to leave
Drop me straight down to my knees
Little girl, little girl
I cannot believe

I've been thinking lately I can't get you off my mind
The way you shake your hips little girl
I swear you're too damn fine
And every time you come around
You got something up your sleeve
I can't seem to figure out just exactly what you need

Light me up like a fire
Burning out of control
I got a felling that I'm gonna want some more

Drop me straight down to my knees
My time is over but I do not want to leave
Drop me straight down to my knees
Little girl, little girl
I cannot believe

Drop me baby straight down to my knees
My time is over but I do not want to leave
Drop me straight down to my knees
Little girl, little girl
I cannot believe
Little girl, little girl, little girl
I cannot believe
