Title: Easy And Safe

First of all, there's you and me then there's the Atlantic sea
then there's New York
eaten from your hands

There's a phone booth just next door
Where's there's an area code scribbled on the floor
I can reach the change in my pocket just to make sure that you're close by

can you hear me?
do you want to hear me?
do you fear me?
to be near me?

can you hear me?
do you want to hear me?
do you fear me?
to be near me?

I want it all to be easy and safe
and I do not want to exaccarete
I get this this urge to explain myself when there's too much space

you wanna be of use, you say well, there's not too many useful things these days Still I could use a piece of you right now so hang in there..

can you hear me?
do you want to hear me?
do you fear me?
to be near me?

When I'm not there

can you hear me?
do you want to hear me?
do you fear me?
to be near me?

When I'm not there
