You're one of the things I throw away
If I weren't afraid that someone else would pick you up
My passion for you, is a passion for property.

There are people who love only once
These are the shallow people
There are people who can't live alone
These are the hollow people

My passion for you
is a passion for property
My passion for you

Then there are people like you and me
We have a passion for property

Sometimes I wonder it's one of the three
I say, greed, treat, respectfully

My passion for you
My passion for you
