I'm not coming with you tonight,
I'm gonna talk my self empty, then I'm gonna say good night.
You're just not what I had in mind.
And you might be good-looking,
but you just don't look right.

But I'm not gonna tell you tonight,
I'm gonna lie and claime: "I had the time of my life"
But tomorrow, I'm not gonna call...
My conscidence, it wont bother me at all..

But hey, you've made my day
I've been all exated in that premature way
And now you're part of the game

You're going home alone tonight
When you wake up in the morning, you're gonna be alright
There might be coffee in your stove
If you want to, you can choose to leave the day alone
You can sink down betwin the sheets

You can open up the window and let the sun come in
You can do what ever you want
But tonight you're going home alone

But hey, you've made my day
I've been all exated in that premeture way
Hey girl, you've made my day
I've been all exated in that premeture way
And now you're part of the game
