"There's no room", she says while opening her door the kitchen sink was filled with flowers a single candle light was lighting up her room made me confused about the hour

If I only could forgive her but there's a hole in my heart getting bigger and anyway the things you say they never really get to me like you and I go on forever c'mon..

girl..
c'mon..

when there's no memory then frankly there's no hope there's no chances whatsoever you turn to me when there was no one left to call say you and I go on forever seems like we go on forever

like you and I go on forever and all the while I wondered why you told me about the other guy if you and I go on forever

'shjii'mone'

and anyway, the things you say
