I don't know you that well, but I like your energy

She is a wolf looking through my window

And though I'm safe, my love, I want to roam
Behind this pane, behind this wall of stone
Caught in the pull of your green eyed glow
I want to feel my skin in the snow

She is a wolf looking through my window

Caught in the pull of your green eyed glow
I want to feel my skin in the snow
And though I'm safe, my love, I want to roam
Behind this pane, behind this wall of stone

She is a wolf looking through my window

My new love howling in the night outside
My new love howling in the moonlight
I don't know you that well, but I like your energy

(In the reflection)

Caught in the pull of your green eyed glow
(She is a wolf looking in my window)
She's a wolf looking through my window

I want to feel my skin in the snow
(And I am a ghost from a million years ago)
She's a wolf looking through my window

And though I'm safe, my wolf, I want to roam
(She is a wolf looking in my window)
She's a wolf looking through my window

Behind this pane behind this wall of stone
(And I am a ghost from a million years ago)
She's a wolf looking through my window
