Group of friends making music together, all personalities combined.

Shines from our faces, focused like men who climb high mountains.

Its our fraternity, our creation.

Dedicated to one another but sometimes hating each other.

A glance at the music scene that we take part in is a big fraternity rock thing.

its our rock, our frat rock.

Independant but dependant to the people. A brotherhood not like Hollywood. When its fake we hear a click of high heels, when its real we know its all worth while.

Beacause its rock, our frat rock
