Soft rain falls around us
And the moon says it's getting late
Arm in arm, steps in time,
We come to the edge of the lake
We forget where we are
And you're so loud
And the water around our feet
Can't find no way out

Take me back to this world
You take me to the line
Take me out of this world
Drown with me tonight

There is water on the concrete,
Rivulets on the face
You release me from your kiss
And do a dance for me and the rain
Falling down and splashing up
I'm clapping for a second cut
Your rain soaked pirouette
Spins me around again

Take me back to this world
You take me to the line
Take me out of this world
Drown with me tonight

We forget where we are

Now I'm reading into your intention
And I'm falling through your depth
You pull me to the water's edge
And vanish in the black
You're on my mind
Swim through my time
As I float out to you
I dream of your caress

Take me out of this world
You take me to the line

Take me out of this world
Drown with me tonight

We forget where we are
