Silence fills the room
Sitting face to face with regret is the easiest way
To escape from this depression
Finally we've come to the turning point Where treat is the pushing force that acts on our decision
No words to say
No promises from our mouth

So let's take back words tonight
And the lines that we never meant to say
So get back to where you are
'Cause I realized there's nothing left for me

Feelings never shown
Kept hidden in my chest
Secrets locked behind closed eyes
Too bad it's too late to capture out your heart
I will be accused of stealing you
Wide awake you paid attention to my flattery

Pluck my eyes from within so that I can't see you anymore
Cut my hands from my arms so that I can't hold you
anymore
Rip my heart deep inside so that I can't love you
anymore
Slice my throat with your blade so that I can't talk to
To you anymore

Bury me away from you so that I can't feel you forever
