Adjust

You're slowly changing day by day I noticed

And I can't swallow your attitude

You can't control it

The most deceitful thing you owned is your heart

You're nothing but a germ crawling in the sand

Comments will never like your terms

It will need to satisfy this fragile temper

'Cause I'm frail

Cracked emotions falling down to disagreement

And I will never confirm your invitation

'Cause your just following what your mind feeds your action

You're fake

I can't speak

You can never relate yourself

Admit where you are wrong

Accept that it's your fault

Give apology

I'm ready to forgive you

I'm frail
