Miranda Lambert - What Are You Gonna Do

Time

It comes and goes like everything I know
It's just when I wish it would stand here still It never will

Love

You find somethin' it goes away again
You move on the next
And by then you're just a mess
You gotta start all over again
Why does everybody want more love?

Am I the only one that sees my point of view?

You can waste your life lookin' for somethin' to look forward to

Then you chase it

But when you catch it

What are you gonna do?

Independance

You say you're fine on your own but you come across cold

He don't feel like you need him so he goes

You're left here alone

Why does everybody wanna be independant?

Am I the only one that sees my point of view?

You can waste your life lookin' for somethin' to look forward to

And you chase it

But when you catch it

What are you gonna do?

My every day seems like such bliss

But then in the end you wish someone would have told you all about

How it dont work out

Why does everybody wanna be so nieve?

Cuz you chase it

Then you waste it
What are you gonna do?
