Time has gone so fast
I didn't even remember how we came up to this point where you don't care about my feelings anymore all you care is getting your way all the time and being on your own so what?
I can still get my own life too denial is only helping make it through Still I love you
Still I need you
Still I want you by my side but I don't feel you Still I hate you
for all the things you put me through but still I wonder If love will make it do

You are lying when you tell me that you miss me when you tell you were working late and that time just flew away
And you're laughing because you know that I've been crying and I need me to understand that things are not that bad
Still I love you
Still I need you
Still I want you by my side
but I don't feel you Still I hate you
but still I wonder
If love will make it do
You are so gone
And I'm alone
but I still want you by my side Am I an idiot
cause I still need you because you were the best man I ever ever met what happened between us?

what happened with the love that gave us freedom I'm right beside you but I can't handle all this because the pain is just too much because your love is just a matter of time
