tell me

tell me why didn't you come last night tell me why you kept me waiting outside all night long tell me why you slept again with her tell me why were you concern tell me if we are done right now so I can go home alone

tell me if you found here more beautiful or you needed her at least and I will understand tell if only a piece of illusion is left in your hard core heart tell me tell me

tell me why you don't hold me any longer or why did you forget me and made me second place and tell me if I just seem as past for you if I seem like past for you and you want to move on
