"End Of All"

Why is the cold darkness within us all? They will watch you burn and cut you down.
We want to love, but choose to slay.
To kill your firstborn and crush your life.
Look now as we wallow in self pity. Being filled now with such envy and selfishness.
We will mock your pain.
Lift up your chin, destiny awaits.
Death will come by our hand, for vile men and lovers of
hate have ruled the land.
A killer has met with you this day.
Now, it is time to meet the dead.
Let you be forewarned. Fall to your knees, beg for mercy.
Death will come by our hand, for vile men and lovers of
hate have ruled the land.
A killer has met with you this day.
We shall rise to the occasion, not natural to a man. We want to love but choose to slay.
Look now as we wallow in such self pity. Being filled now with such envy and selfishness.
Why? destiny awaits. This is the end of all.
