Started out with good intentions things changed some where along that line. Back down, now you'll never be, won't ever be the one who tells me everything, the one who'll make me wait around for him.

Make up your mind before I drive as far away as I can, pick me up when you're done this story has only just begun. Throw me aside, well I'm sad to say this is the last ride.
