So much took place in the last couple days
So many people hurt in so many ways
I can't hide like this anymore
It hurts too much, you know how I feel for...
You, are everything to me
You're in my heart and thoughts constantly
But now I'm giving it all up, it's the best thing to do
Believe me, it's not my choice, I really love you
This is so Romeo and Juliet
It's like forbidden love, and stuff like that I care for you too much to bring more pain
The way I think about you, it drives me insane
But this can't continue going on
It seems so right but you know it's so wrong
You're so close, yet so far away
What I'd give for just one more day...
With you, are everything to me
You're in my heart and thoughts constantly
But now I'm giving it all up, it's the best thing to do
Believe me, it's not my choice, I really love you
And now, here I am, with your picture in my hand Remembering how you smell, and walk, and talk...and
The way your smile made my whole day
And how you captured my heart just to take it away
The way your voice assured me of your care
The way your letters comforted me when you weren't there
The way our memories played back in my head
Over and over and over and over and over and over forever more
You are everything to me
You're in my heart and thoughts constantly
But now I'm giving it all up, it's the best thing to do
Believe me it's not my choice I really love you
What I'd give for just one more day with you
