Glorified hungry and sanctified lovely
I'm losing control I cannot see you
Lying in the shade
In the shadows of the lie we made
Don't be afraid to emulate that look on your face
Call me out again
Make me everything that you've been hoping for
It's a grave mistake to rely on give and take
I would give everything for one more choice to make
I miss the stars and the shapes they make
The way they looked when we didn't know their names
When we didn't know what we didn't know
Wish I didn't know what I know now
Right now
