You are the best at wasting better days
Don't let them fade away
Do you know what you're thinking
Can you tell me what's on your mind
How does it feel to give it all away
All of your faith in time
Don't let them fade
Don't waste your better days
Goodbye
You tried
But you could never be the same
You turned your back on everything but your name
Now it's time for your lies to put you in the backseat
I can take this
Let me take the wheel
Fake and plastic suits you well
What happened to the one who lost their way
Severance for the life you had
When everyone still looks the same
Can you see everything you used to be
Will you be everything you were before me
It's time you tried goodbye
