I fear our system has a fault
A fault that takes our morals on rapid decline
Open up your eyes, so many die
Free choice came before life in 1969

Quickly we bury with excuses
We know there is nothing that can hide reality
Its obvious, through all of this
That there is guilt upon the head of this country

Chorus:
So when are we going to stop this war
When are we going to stop this war
When are we going to stop this war
On the unborn
The silence of this war is deafening
And that's because our victim does not have a voice
All you who hear, lend me your ears
I'm here to speak for those who do not get the choice

Don't turn away
Don't turn away from this war

So when are we going to stop this war
This war on the unborn
Don't stand back and ignore
Don't turn away
