He'll tear you apart
For he knows what to do
And he knows what to say
He'll match your will
For if it's weak
You're his prey

But still I try
As I ride by the light of the moon
Heart burstin' inside
As I fly, evil around me now looms
The trial of the soul when there's nothing left you can say
For all your lies weigh heavy against you today

Now be judged
On what is locked
Deep inside
Battle till death
For your honor
For your pride
In your heart you must know
What is just
What is true
When the devil looks in your face
It's just him
It's just you

My battle ordained
Flesh, blood, horror and pain
In God, I put my trust
That He'll save my soul if I'm slain
Before the final battle as the storm turns heading my way
Behold the invincible weapon
The only thing that'll save you today

One thing I know
The true test of a warrior's soul
His battle lies within
Deep in his heart where evil takes its hold
Once foretold

The mightiest sword you could hold
Is a heart that is true
When the battles ensues

As the prophecy unfolds

For his thoughts
Are so quick
From his mouth
Roll the lies
If you listen
To him
You are caught
By surprise

Believe or die, our swords clash - rings the bell of the doomed
Millions who've tried before
The fires of Hell have consumed
But his deadliest blows
My sword seems to jump in their way
Over and over in my mind these are the words that I

One thing I know
For I was told
Of the incredible power it holds
Against anything will victory bring
In the trial of the soul

For the sword that you hold
Draws its power from your soul
Quicker than light, cutting deep in the night
Where evil blood runs cold
So to the bold
Prepare the weapon you must hold
And ask of the Lord
Victory to our swords
As we face the dangers untold
