So how were we intended to be?
And how were we supposed to grow?
So this is not the way
And that is all we know

Though it surrounds you cannot see
Mankind can't bear much reality
And we go round and round
In our search for dreams

Who will be the one to stay
Who will be the one to open our eyes

Rise with sun above muddy waters
Look with a different eye
Search for reality that we cannot see in our daily lives
If you look then the truth will come to you, my friend
How do we know where to begin

We're blinded by the way things are
Then look to how it all should be
So this is not the way
And that is all we know

Who will be the one to stay
Who will be the one to open our eyes

Rise with sun above muddy waters
Look with a different eye
Search for reality that we cannot see in our daily lives
If you look then the truth will come to you, my friend
How do we know where to begin

Rise with sun above muddy waters
Look with a different eye
Search for reality that we cannot see in our daily lives
If you look then the truth will come to you, my friend

How do we know where to Â...
How do we know where to Â...
How do we know where to begin
