Love ain't always like you want it, baby
Things can weigh on your mind
The road ain't always straight and narrow
Baby, it can twist and wind

But we got each other
And when all is said and done
We'll be here together
To weather whatever may come

It's just another hill to climb
Another bridge to cross over
Baby, our love will stand the test of time

Another walk in the dark
Another stormy night
We can make it together, baby
It's just another hill to climb
I'll never take your love for granted, baby
I swear that it's true
In a world that's full of heartache, baby
I'll love only you

So let the cold winds blow
Let the wild rivers run
We'll still be together
To weather whatever may come

It's just another hill to climb
Another bridge to cross over
Baby, our love will stand the test of time

Another walk in the dark
Another stormy night
We can make it together, baby
It's just another hill to climb
