

Corbin & Hanner

"Livin' My Life Out Loud"

Visit "Livin' My Life Out Loud" on MotoLyrics.com

words & music by Bob Corbin, Gene Ellsworth, Bat McGrath

pub. by Bocor Music, (BMI)

pub. by Taylor Street Music, (ASCAP)

pub. by Wanted Woman Music, (BMI)

It's easy to say what you should've said,
But if the moment passes, the words fall dead,
When the one you meant to say them to is gone,
I didn't know back then what I know right now,
Couldn't find the right words to say somehow,
I was afraid what ever I'd say was wrong, but from now on

(Chorus)

I'm livin' my life out loud, with every chance I take,
A voice that stands out in the crowd , gonna' go with the moves I make,
I might stumble, I might fall down,
Nothin' can stop me as long as I hear that sound, I'm livin' my life out loud

The only choice that's ever wrong, is to never make a choice at all

For you and me, right now the choice is clear

When I look in your eyes, I can see a light

We could fly away together into the night

The only thing that can stop us now is fear, right now,
right here

(Chorus)

If we let the moment pass, it won't come again

And all we'll have left is what might have been

It all comes down to what we do right here, right now,
right here.

(Chorus)

Visit Corbin & Hanner page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.